DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVED.

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Jan. 7.—King George's proclamation fixing yesterday for prayers throughout the British empire for what has been accomplished in the war by British arms in the cause of freedom and an invocation for the successful, speedy termination of the war was observed in the places of worship of every denomination. The lord mayor of London and sheriffs attended the St. Paul's Cathedral in state. Soldiers and sailors on leave, some of them Americans, filled the churches. One of the features of the occasion was the closing of all saloons for the first time since the war began.

The MacNamara shipped Sunday seven bars, weighing 10,636 ounces. The valuation of the shipment was estimated at $11,699.60.

MORNING GLORY-WHITE CAPS APEX SUIT NOW BEFORE JUDGE AVERILL

The case upon which hinges the proving or disproving of the Morning Glory Mining company's claim to apex rights to an ore body that extends from its property through the sideline to the property of the White Caps Mining company was opened today before Judge Mark R. Averill. Four prospective jurors were examined from the venire of forty. In the opinion of the attorneys, it will take several days to secure the complete jury. It is generally estimated that the actual trial of the case will take from two to three weeks.

Attorney H. R. Cook is representing the White Caps company and Attorneys L. A. Gibbons, Henry M. Hoyt and Frank Pittman will oppose him with the contentions of the Morning Glory company.

CHRISTMAS DAY TODAY FOR LOCAL SLAVONIANS

Today is Christmas day for the Slavonians who adhere to the calendar of Russia and the Greek church. It is being celebrated in many Tonopah homes. There are many holiday visits being made from one home to another, and lavish dinners are being prepared with little roast pig as the piece de resistance. Because of the high prices there are very few suckling pigs on the market, but some were obtained at very high prices. Presents are made to friends and relatives and in most ways the day is celebrated as Americans observe Christmas.

WRESTLER BERNE TO LEAVE ON TUESDAY

William Berne, the Russian wrestler, who, besides being a top-notch wrestler, is as square a sportsman as ever struggled on the canvas mat for honor and lucre, will leave Tonopah tomorrow for Los Angeles. Berne failed to get a promoter to handle his match with Ajax of Goldfield. Both men were willing to go, but sporting men hesitated to put the match on before March, which was too long a time for the Russian to wait. Berne had planned to leave this morning, but on remembering that it was the day of Christmas in his homeland decided it wouldn't be fitting to travel on such a holiday. From Los Angeles he intends to go to Jerome, Ariz., where he has been promised a match. During his stay here the amiable big fellow has made many friends.

Last August the White Caps company demanded and obtained a preliminary injunction preventing the Morning Glory people from extending their workings into White Caps property. The Morning Glory miners had only gotten into a few feet of the White Caps claim. About two months ago Judge Mark R. Averill presided at the preliminary hearing on the injunction and the White Caps company having shown cause the injunction was decreed continued until the final decision in the suit. The following prospective jurors were passed, temporarily: H. M. Bowler, Albert McFadden, George J. Garrison, John A. Connor, Fred Newton, Sam Durkee, George F. Watkins, Harold Pottler, George A. Roberts, J. C. Peck, Milan Davidovich.

FEAR OF RABIES IS PROVEN UNFOUNDED

The "mad" dog shot several weeks ago by Judge Duneath did not have rabies. The head of the animal was sent to W. B. Mack of the state veterinary control service. He sent the following letter to the local police department:

"Your telegram of December 31 and the dog head referred to therein received. A thorough microscopic examination of the brain has failed to reveal the presence of rabies. Rabbits will be inoculated from portions of this brain to positively prove or disprove the presence of rabies. Evidence from this source, however, will be secured too late to determine the necessity of any persons bitten taking the Pasteur treatment. If there are such, they should seek competent medical advice at once." There were no persons reported bitten.

AJAX, BERNE ON SAME NIGHT, SAYS GREEK

Comes now Critt Theophilus, whose ancestors learned the classic game of wrestling in old Athens, and requests a chance at both Ajax and Berne on the same night.

"If either one or both stay an hour I'll pay them $100 in real money," he declared modestly today. Theophilus comes from Fresno, where he found matches exceedingly scarce. He weighs 185 pounds. He says it would be easy for him to throw both Ajax and Berne, one right after another, just like that.

AMUSEMENTS

OUR BOYS IN FRANCE TODAY.

In addition to our regular program today, there will be shown a picture which will be of great interest to every American. The name of the picture is "Under the Stars and Stripes in France." It is the first official French war picture of our boys at work and at play, showing their training, their living and just how they are spending their time with the soldiers of France. This picture is being shown in all the biggest and best theaters throughout the country, and it is needless to say is receiving a wonderful reception.

"The Flaming Omen," a fascinating story of love and mysticism, set for the most time in the wild recesses of the Andes mountains is the Greater Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature, which will also be shown today. No expense was spared in its direction to carry out with historic fidelity the customs and mannerisms of Peruvians at the time of the Incas, about whom the story is weaved. All of Southern California was searched before a satisfactory location was found, and all the Zoos called on to furnish realism to the forest scenes. The only drawback was llamas, and no Peruvian picture could "get by," said the director, without them.

There are only twenty-six of these animals in the United States, and only six in a California zoo, with an iron-clad rule that they shall not be removed even to be immortalized in pictures. After much correspondence and wire-pulling, however, the llamas were forthcoming, and the picture completed.

Tomorrow, Hearst-Pathé News, and the celebrated character actor, George Behan, in "The Cook of Canyon Camp" Wednesday, "The Honor System," one of the biggest pictures of the year—the picture that received the unanimous endorsement of the press and all the big men of the country.

Saturday, says the war office announcement, and there was great aerial activity.

(By Associated Press.)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Jan. 7.—Freezing temperatures continued to hold the British front in an icy grip. Many of the roads are impassable to motor cars owing to snow drifts, and the fighting necessarily is desultory, owing to the weather conditions. The Germans, however, are exceedingly active, carrying out raids on various parts of the line.

Their exploit of Saturday morning east of Bullecourt, in which they captured an advanced British post, resulted in a heavy loss of life to the attacking troops. Late in the afternoon the British organized a counter-thrust and re-captured the position.

There has been considerable activity in the air and also continual wrangling between the big guns as a reminder that the war has not been finished. Aside from this, however, comparative quiet prevails.

The Germans are industriously conducting changes in their back areas, which lends support to the general impression that they intend to attempt offensive operations, unless peace is concluded shortly.

trade commission and as such he should occupy and discharge his official duties in a fair way. He has, however, assumed the powers not only of the federal trade commission, but of the department of justice, and, in fact, of the government itself.

"I shall not at this time comment on the manner in which the hearings are conducted, nor shall I refer to the fact that the packers are not represented, and are not permitted to cross-examine witnesses or to introduce testimony or otherwise explain the motives or develop the trust of the witnesses selected by Mr. Heney to lend color to his pre-conceived and pre-announced opinions. Each day there issue from the inquiry room press dispatches that refer to the 'meat trust,' the 'food combine' which has the public in its grip," and similar unfair catch phrases which can only be but construed as appeals to stir up the passions and prejudices of the people."

ment in enemy countries and in Russia.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Premier Lloyd George's speech to the delegates of the trades unions on Saturday is characterized by the weekly newspapers as marking a historical epoch in the war. The Weekly Dispatch asserts that it is a "courageous call for unity in the nation in the face of the trials and dangers that lie ahead and is the best answer to the clamorous, if unimportant, minority who have been endeavoring to drive a wedge between the government and the labor party on the false plea that there are unbridgeable integral difficulties in the respective conceptions of the war aims for which we are fighting."

The News of the World declares the speech outlined the British war aims "with a degree of precision which leaves no loophole for misunderstanding," and adds:

"These are the aims for which we entered the war. For them we have bent unflinchingly more than three years, and for them, as the premier said, we are prepared to suffer many times more that which has already been suffered."

The Sunday Times says the most satisfactory praises of the speech and the most discomforting for the Prussian war lords are those which reveal it as "not an utterance of either mere statesman or a political party, but as the considered utterance of the British people."

The National News says: "If there was ever any doubt about the things for which the manhood of our empire has been gloriously making a great sacrifice, such can no longer exist."

The newspaper concludes: "That the premier should have selected this democratic channel for his historic pronouncement is surely significant of his belief that the organized movement of democracy is the power which shall rule the world in the coming golden time."

The People asserts Mr. Lloyd George has done inestimable service to the nation and the entire allies in stating frankly and without reservation Great Britain's war aims, and adds:

"It will no longer be possible for our present enemies to profess honest doubt as to what we are fighting for, or to delude any intelligent German with the false that our aim is the destruction or the disruption of the German state or its people."
